PREFACE

TO THE EIGHTIETH VOLUME.

1866-'7.

New York is so full of new-comers, that the number of old residents who take any interest in the family antiquities of the city form a very inconsiderable class; but still there are some who do look back with a fond inquiring gaze at the last century, and can solace themselves with tracing their kinship to those mythical personages who are called "the old Knickerbockers." To all such the New York Directory, the first number of which was issued in the year 1795, must be what the roll of Battle Abbey or Domesday-Book is to an Englishman. The proud New Yorker who wishes to trace his descent from the Knickerbockers, should consult the pages of the Directory. To his dismay he will discover that the New York Knickerbockers are like the "snakes in Iceland." There never were any Knickerbockers in the old New York Directory. In the Directory for the year 1796 the name of Stuyvesant first occurs, and there is but one, and he is there recorded, "Peter Stuyvesant, shoemaker." Two years after there are two, "Peter Stuyvesant, shoe warehouse," and P. S. jr., attorney. Another great New York name makes its first appearance in the Directory of 1796, where we find "John Jacob Astor, fur merchant, 149 Broadway," and "H. Astor, butcher, 61 Bowery Lane." "Gulian Verplanck" was then a "merchant, 16 Wall st.," and "John Jay, Governor," was to be found at "the Government House, Broadway." Another name, which was not of much account then, but has become notorious enough since, though it has disappeared from the Directory, is that of "John Slidell, soap boiler, Broadway." This was the father of the expatriated senator who went into rebellion because of his aristocratic superiority to northern mudsills. A close research into the volumes of the Directory will be rewarded by a great many highly interesting and amusing discoveries, but we do not think that it will prove on the whole very encouraging to the family-pride of New Yorkers, except to such as take a proper pride in being the descendants of honest tailors, shoemakers, and butchers. Everybody knows, of course, that New York was not always as large as it is now, but very few can have any just conception of its actual growth without contrasting the earlier volumes of the Directory—meagre little miniature books, filled up with all manner of useless trumpery to swell out their pages—with the large volume of closely compacted information which we now furnish the public. It is curious, in looking over the earlier volumes of the Directory, to see how gradually the distinctively New York names have disappeared, or been completely overshadowed by the infusion of new elements into our population. The increase of New York has not been a growth but an aggregation. If we could afford space for it here, we could give some very curious facts in relation to the population of the city, such as no census tables can furnish, gleaned from the pages of the Directory, and we will probably do it in our next year's volume. A learned Bostonian has done a similar service for the capital of New England by the publication of a volume on the surnames of Suffolk County, Massachusetts. For the present we must be content with merely giving the number of names in the Directory for 1866-7, which contains 176,511, being an increase of 10,367 over the number contained in the issue for 1865–6.

BOGUS DIRECTORIES.

Those who have had no experience of the facts might think that an attempt to impose upon the public by the publication of a bogus directory would not prove a very profitable piece of roguery. But all business enterprises have to contend with counterfeits, and the Directory is no exception. We have often warned the business public against impostors who go about collecting advertisements and receiving pay for pretended directories, but still there are credulous merchants and manufacturers who will allow themselves to be swindled by these pests. Complaints have been continually made to us by the victims of these marauders, but we are in no manner responsible for them, and can only caution the public to trust to none but the agents of a well-established directory, who can show their credentials. Large sums of money have been collected by some of these pretended publishers and agents of directories. The greater number of these collectors are out-and-out swindlers, who have no intention of investing anything more in their enterprise than the cost of a lead pencil and a memorandum book, but there are some who do actually print a few copies of a book which they call a directory, of which they may distribute fifty or a hundred copies, and the fact and the intention of fraud are not less than in the other case, only they may escape the legal consequences of swindling when prosecuted. These bogus directories are only printed because the terms of advertising render it necessary; the advertisements they contain being paid for only when the directory appears. Ten or fifteen copies are just as good for this purpose as ten or fifteen thousand. These directories are not always New York Directories; they are more frequently pretended to be published in Patagonia, Philadelphia, or Polynesia, as the case may be; but the swindling projector gathers his harvest here, picking up the names of merchants who wish to extend their business relations into those remote regions, where the bogus directory is never seen or heard of. There is no exaggeration in these statements. We know of one instance, for example, in which some twenty thousand dollars were collected here for advertisements in one of these bogus directories, and no more of the work was printed than just sufficient to supply each advertiser with a copy, amounting in all to about five hundred copies. Of course the Polynesians, Patagonians, or whatever innocent people they were, among whom the directory was to be distributed, never knew or heard anything about the matter, their own names, which it might have contained, being copied from an old publication.

Of course we are not injured by the practices which we expose, but we make mention of them because complaints are made to us by victims of such swindling undertakings, and we simply discharge a duty to the business public by putting them once more on their guard against a pestiferous class of impostors.

ELIE CHARLIER'S

French and English Institute

FOR YOUNG GENTLEMEN,

Boarding and Day School, Classical and Commercial,

Nos. 48 and 50 EAST TWENTY-FOURTH STREET,

(New Nos. 126 and 128,)

NEAR MADISON PARK, Between 4th & Lexington Aves.

THIS School is now in its Eleventh year. Its Pupils are to be found at West Point, in the Navy School, in the Army, in the Counting House, many Colleges, and Professions.

The studies pursued embrace all the studies necessary for a liberal instruction. Pupils can commence when Seven years of age in the Primary Department, and continue until they are seventeen or eighteen, ready for their future profession.

German, Spanish, and French are taught by native teachers. American pupils are obliged to speak French, the only way to acquire it in a foreign country.

As heretofore, I will devote to my school all my time and energy; surrounded with excellent teachers, and all the resources presented by a large city, I will do my utmost to continue to deserve the confidence and esteem of my pupils' parents. Pupils are received as boarders. There is but one table for pupils, teachers, and myself.

Gymnastics, military drill, singing, and drawing are regularly taught.

Complete obedience, cheerful and prompt obedience, truth in everything, and work—such are my rules. I shall not fail to enforce them, even if I have to dismiss any pupil refusing compliance with them, or exerting an evil influence in the school. The classes in my institution may be visited at all times by the parents or guardians of the pupils.

It is a rule with my assistants and myself to accustom our pupils to use their powers of reflection and of reasoning throughout the course of their studies. We do not ask them to work beyond their powers, but require strictly the performance of their tasks; in a word, we wish them to exert themselves conscientiously.

THE ACADEMIC YEAR, 1866–67, will extend from the 20th of September to the end of June, divided, for the payments, into two sessions. All bills payable in advance, semi-annually. Pupils are charged for the entire Academic year, except new pupils, who are charged from the date of their admission to the end of the school year.

Hours of attendance for Day Scholars.—From five minutes before 9 A.M. till 3 P.M. (with recess). In the Primary Department, pupils, if desired, may leave at 2 P.M.

A report of the attendance, deportment, and proficiency of the pupil, is sent to his parents at least once a month.

For all details, terms, and further information, see the Prospectus of the School, which contains the names of my pupils and those of their parents for the last ten years.

From JAMES G. KING, Banker.

My son James was with Mr. CHARLIER for five years. My son John has been under his charge for the last eight years, and has just left him to enter College.

July, 1863. J. G. KING.

From General J. S. WADSWORTH.

My son James has been in Mr. CHARLIER'S School, as a boarding-pupil, for the last eight years.

July, 1863. J. S. WADSWORTH.

From Hon. E. DELAFIELD SMITH, U. S. District-Attorney.

PROF. ELIE CHARLIER:

Dear Sir: I intrust my son Harold to you, with confidence. E. DELAFIELD SMITH.

Sept. 10th, 1861.

From ADRIAN ISELIN, Merchant and Banker.

For the last seven years my sons have been in Professor CHARLIER'S School. One has left him to enter my counting-room, one will enter college next year, two others are yet young.

May, 1864. A. ISELIN.
